Cock Rock Disco

the sado-booty ring-master, theromantic toe sniffer, the gangster of dsp is back again! that's right, hymen records and cock rock disco are proud to present the vinyl version of his new full length album: "oozing bass spasms". with enough porn and horror samples to satiate the most demented programmer, and enough juicy bass to placate the most voracious bass-head, oozing bass spasms is a masterwork by one of the world's most original artists.

by far his most approachable and even refined album, it's still pretty crazy in a way that only otto von schirach can provide. this time the overall feeling of the album is more dance sounding; elements of booty, electro, breakcore, and rave music all find a place in his bizarre universe. compared with booty-bassers like dj funk or dj assault where mainly females are objects of carnal desires, both male and female get one's just deserts from otto!

from the first track "subatomic disco divas" to the last "satanic unicorn orgy", we are spoon-fed outstanding beats of all types, fractured and welded into ghettoized forms never seen. "magnetic rave headache" will probably be one of the hardest breakcore tracks you've ever heard, and then the next song, "geliatin fixation" is built around a dubstep bassline that would make scorn wet himself. his ballad "her blood is like poison" gets the ladies horny and the boys start the mosh-pit during "dj hepatitis tofuburger". but the party gets rowdy with his collaboration with liquido -"romance in the club"- a electro-club banger like we rarely get anymore- it's positively soaked in party.

otto von schirach (half cuban / half german) was born in 1978 in the ghetto in miami. as a child his grandmother practiced santeria and white magic, which opened his eyes to the strange and bizarre. in 1995 he bought his first drum machine from a crack-head just 2 blocks from his mom's house, and in 1998 otto released his first demo, which got him signed to a 4 album deal with schematic records. in 2003 otto worked on the skinny puppy album "the greater wrong of the right" which scored him a 57 show tour opening for them across the usa. he scared the living shit out of all the skinny puppy fans night after night with his 35 minute, 3 costume change, ear punishing dance party. in 2004 miss kitten had otto remix her "professional distortion" track for nova mute uk. otto made also a sound library for fixed noise and native instruments entitled "otto" which offers over 4gb of instruments that include construction, loops, sequences, surround, random and much more. recently he was one of myspace germany's artists of the week. the past few months have seen him on tour with einstürzende neubauten, skinny puppy, venetian snares and blowfly! he destroyed dour festival in 1 afternoon. so we know you can't get enough otto - and to be honest, neither can we! otto is a true gang banger. a true slave to the sound wave, he will always make love to speakers worldwide - so pick up your plate and listen 'til you puke!
